In 2026, the average installation costs about $2,400. The full price typically ranges from $1,600 to $3,800.

Top brands like Rinnai, Navien, and Rheem lead the market. They combine high efficiency, strong flow rates, and solid warranties.

Thinking about a gas model? An older home may need a gas line upgrade. This can add $400 to $800 to your final installation cost.

At FunnelTide Marketing, we analyze search data to answer your real questions, providing clear insights for your big decisions.

While the upfront cost is higher, tankless units can last up to 20 years. That is nearly double the lifespan of a traditional tank model.
